Special Notes

1. Test Regulations

<Qualifications for test candidacy>

1. Qualifications for test candidacy

Candidates for the test shall be 17 years of age or older on the test date. For those who are of Indonesian nationality, you have to be at least 18 years old or above, calculated based on the Western calendar, on the test date. However, when taking the test in Japan, they must meet the test requirements listed in the "Procedure for the Agriculture Skill Assessment Test."

2. Rules for taking the test again

You will not be allowed to take the test again until 45 days have passed since the day after your test date.

3. Other points to note

(1) When taking the test outside Japan

When a person who does not have the nationality of the test country applies for the test, the National Chamber of Agriculture does not guarantee the availability of the test, and whether or not the score report when passing the test will be appropriately certified as a "document to be submitted for application for residence related to Specified Skilled Worker."

(2) When taking the test in Japan

When a person who does not have the nationality of a country that has signed the bilateral Memorandum of Cooperation (MOC) on Specified Skilled Worker with Japan applies for the test, the National Chamber of Agriculture does not guarantee the availability of the test, and whether or not the score report when passing the test will be appropriately certified as a "document to be submitted for application for residence related to Specified Skilled Worker."

<Exam contents, scoring and results>

The National Chamber of Agriculture will make no response whatsoever to any inquiries regarding the test questions and the results of the scoring.

<Misconduct>

In the event of cheating, proxy tests, leaking of test questions or other acts considered fraudulent, the National Chamber of Agriculture may take the following measures:

- nullify the test results (including any tests taken in the past);
- will not notify the test results; and
- will not allow the test candidate to take future tests.

In addition, the National Chamber of Agriculture will assume no responsibility whatsoever for any future damage that a candidate for the test has suffered as a result of fraudulent acts.

<Privacy policy>

The National Chamber of Agriculture will handle the personal information and test results registered when applying for the Agriculture Skill Assessment Test (hereinafter referred to as "this test") in accordance with the following rules.

1. Use of personal information

The National Chamber of Agriculture will only handle personal information for purposes related to this test, in compliance with Japanese laws and regulations, and other codes related to the protection of personal information.

2. Provision of personal information to third parties

The National Chamber of Agriculture will not disclose or provide acquired personal information to third parties except in the following cases:

- when the person provides consent; and
- when personal information is required to be disclosed under laws and regulations.

However, when there is an inquiry regarding the results of this test for a justifiable reason from a government agency (e.g. Immigration Services Agency of Japan or of the candidate's country), educational institution such as a university or company, etc., the National Chamber of Agriculture will provide an answer to that inquiry.

3. Entrustment of handling of personal information

The National Chamber of Agriculture may entrust the processing of personal information to a subcontractor after concluding a contract concerning the appropriate protection of personal information to the extent necessary to achieve the purpose of 1 above.
